

If you have been considering attending TSR meetings, and want to help create a more peaceful, just and sustainable world in community with other therapists, this is a good time to start!

Therapists for Social Responsibility
AGENDA
“Working for Peace, Justice and Sustainability in Community”

Sunday October 16, 2005
2 to 4:30

The Friends Meeting House, 890-57th Street, Sacramento

1. Welcome, introductions, CEUs

2. Gathering in small working groups. Focus on the intersections of the psychological and political in some or all of the following areas:

- Outreach/education (to other therapists; various groups; CSUS)
- War/peace (ptsd, recruitment, Vets for Peace)
- Environment (Ecos, earthday, global warming, radiation, pesticides)
- Civil rights (Patriot act and confidentiality)
- Family/child (role model of world violence; poverty, education, corporate inequity)
- Clinical issues (the political climate and our clients)

3. Action. Each group will decide on direction and projects and begin! Some possible overall structures for action:

- Presentation for symposium
- Educational friendly short leaflets on topic (signed by PSR and TSR)
- Articles for Therapists Speak Out
- Endorse/assist/co-sponsor other groups
- Video short with media edge

4. Back together. Each group shares decisions, goals, and any help they need from all of us.

5. Announcements, closing words, meditation
